PART VIII - CUSTOMS PROCEDURESI. Declaration

99.(1) All goods brought into Seychelles except where otherwise provided, shall be placed under a customs procedure and be covered by an appropriate customs declaration irrespective of their nature, quantity, their country of origin, consignment or destination.

Declaration
of goods

(2) Goods manufactured in Seychelles declared for a customs procedure shall be subject to customs supervision and control from the time of acceptance of the declaration until they leave Seychelles, abandoned or the Customs declaration is invalidated.

100.(1) A Customs declaration shall be —

Types of Customs
declaration

- (a) in writing or in an electronic format provided for by this Act;
- (b) by means of an oral declaration in the case of goods of a non-commercial nature contained in a person's baggage;
- (c) by electing and proceeding through a green "nothing to declare" channel or a red "goods to declare" channel for the clearance of a person and their baggage where appropriate; or
- (d) by the importer or exporter informing customs to place the goods under an approved Customs procedure;

(2) Any other customs procedure may be prescribed by regulations.

101. The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may, at the request of the declarant agree that a single or aggregate

Declaration
consignment tariff declaration be made to a whole consignment, provided that—

- (a) the consignment is non-commercial;
- (b) the consignment contains goods falling under different tariff classifications;
- (c) any duties, taxes or levies payable, shall not be less than the amount payable if all of the items had been classified individually.

Acceptance of provisional or incomplete
declaration

102. Where the declarant is unable to provide all the information required to make a complete declaration the Assistant Commissioner of Customs may accept a provisional or incomplete declaration for a specified period as prescribed by regulations.

Lodgement
declaration

103.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may impose conditions for—

- (a) the prior lodgement, acceptance and checking of declaration before the goods arrive in Seychelles; and
- (b) the pre-clearance of goods before the goods arrive in Seychelles.

(2) Any person who without reasonable excuse contravenes any condition imposed by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs, commits an offence and liable on conviction to a fine of not more than 50% of the tax liability.

(3) The date of acceptance of the declaration shall be the date determining the rate of duties, taxes or levies chargeable on the goods.

(4) In the event that forestalling is established, the newly imposed higher rate of duties, taxes or levies or other charges and measures shall apply.

104.(1) The declarant shall, be allowed to amend the particulars of the goods declared after it has been accepted by customs where the amendments apply to the goods originally covered.

Amendment
declaration

(2) Amendments shall not be permitted where the proper officer of customs has —

- (a) informed the declarant that the goods are to be examined;
- (b) established that the particulars in the declaration are incorrect;
- (c) released or cleared the goods.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2) the Assistant Commissioner of Customs may allow amendments where, after the examination of the goods or after an investigation he or she is satisfied that no fraud or other irregularity was involved in the declaration.

105.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall, at the request of the declarant, invalidate a declaration already accepted, where —

Invalidation
declaration

- (a) the goods are immediately to be placed under another customs procedure or use;
- (b) as a result of special circumstances, the placing of the goods under the Customs procedure or use for which they were declared is no longer justified; or
- (c) the declarant provides proof that goods declared in error for the Customs procedure covered by that declaration.

(2) Where the proper officer of Customs has informed the declarant of his intention to examine the goods, a request for invalidation of the declaration shall not be accepted before the examination has taken place.

(3) The declaration shall not be invalidated after the goods have been released or cleared from customs custody.

Forestalling

106. In the absence of forestalling, the date to be used for the purposes of all the provisions governing the approved Customs procedure for which the goods are declared, shall be the date of acceptance of the declaration by the Customs.

Examination
of goods

107.(1) The declarant shall be responsible for the transportation of the goods to the place where they are to be examined and the cost involved in the examination of the goods.

(2) The declarant shall have the right to be present when the goods are examined and when samples are taken.

Further examination
of goods

108.(1) (a) Where only part of the goods covered by a declaration is examined or samples are taken the results of the partial examination or analysis shall apply to all the goods covered by the declaration.

(b) Where a declaration covers two or more items, the particulars relating to each item shall be deemed to constitute a separate declaration.

(2) A declarant may request further examination or sampling of the goods at the declarant's own cost where the declarant considers that the results of the partial examination or analysis is not valid.

(3) The request shall be granted, where the goods have not been released from customs control or, if they have been released, the declarant proves that they have not been altered.

Verification
of the declaration

109.(1) The proper officer of Customs may, for the purpose of verifying the accuracy of the particulars contained in a declaration request further documents from the declarant and take samples of the goods for analysis.

(2) Where an officer verify the declarations and accompanying documents or examine the goods, the officer shall indicate in the copy of the declaration retained or in a document attached the basis and results of the verification or examination and in the case of partial examination of the goods, particulars of the consignment examined.

(3) Where an officer neither verify the declaration nor examine the goods, the officer shall not endorse the declaration or any document.

(4) The results of verifying the declaration shall be used for the application of the Customs procedure under which the goods are placed.

110.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall take the necessary measures to identify the goods where identification is required to ensure compliance with the Customs-procedure or use for which the goods have been declared.

Compliance with Customs procedures

(2) The identification affixed to the goods or transport shall be removed or destroyed only by an officer, authorised by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs, by economic operators or as a result of unforeseen circumstances or force majeure.

111.(1) Customs shall release or clear the goods as soon as the declaration has been verified or accepted without verification where the goods are not subject to any prohibition or restriction and the formalities for placing the goods under the appropriate procedure has been completed. Where two or more items are declared under a declaration each item shall constitute a separate declaration.

Release of
goods

(2) All goods covered by the same declaration shall be released at the same time.

(3) Where laboratory analysis of samples or expert advice relating to the goods are required by customs, the goods may be released before the results of such an examination are known, if—

- (a) any security required by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs in respect of chargeable duties or taxes has been furnished; and
- (b) Customs are satisfied that the goods are not subject to any prohibition or restrictions in force.

Goods
pending decision

112.(1) Where it is impractical to immediately ascertain the duties, taxes or levies payable in respect of any goods declared for home use or exportation, customs may allow goods to be cleared upon the declarant giving security by deposit of money or otherwise to the satisfaction of the goods.

(2) Where a declaration for home use is not complete, customs may treat such goods as declared for home use and require the declarant to provide any outstanding particulars.

(3) Where the goods are cleared for home use customs shall notify the declarant of the amount of duties, taxes or levies and other charges payable on the goods.

(4) The declarant shall pay the amount specified in the notice or the amount may be deducted from any deposit paid.

(5) The declarant may appeal to the Revenue Tribunal if there is a dispute as to the amount specified in the notice.

Release on payment of the Customs debt or provision of a guarantee

113.(1) Where a Customs declaration gives rise to a Customs debt, the goods shall be released on the condition of the payment of the debt or the provision of a guarantee to cover that debt.

(2) Where a Customs-approved procedure or use requires that a guarantee is provided for the release of the goods, the goods shall not be released until a guarantee is provided.

114. Goods shall not be released and will be liable for confiscation or sale, where —

Certification
of goods

- (a) it has not been possible to examine the goods within the period prescribed by regulations;
- (b) the documents which must be produced before the goods can be placed under an approved customs procedure have not been produced;
- (c) payments or security for the import or export duties or taxes have not been made within the prescribed period;
- (d) the goods are subject to a prohibition or restriction under section 63.

115. The Minister may prescribe by regulations for simplified and supplementary declarations for clearance of goods.

Simplified
procedure

116. The Minister may prescribe by regulations for goods liable for forfeiture and seizure and procedure for dispose of goods.

Disposal of
goods

117.(1) Customs may at the request of the declarant amend the declaration after release of the goods.

Post clearance amendment of
declaration

(2) Customs may after releasing the goods, inspect any commercial documents and data relating to the import or export of the goods or to subsequent commercial operations involving those goods.

(3) The inspections under subsection (2) may be carried out at the premises of the declarant or at any other place where the goods or documents are available.

(4) Where goods have been released on incorrect or incomplete information which reveals in the revision or posts clearance examination, customs shall take appropriate measure to recover any unpaid taxes, duty or levy and impose a fine if necessary.

II. RELEASE OR CLEARANCE FOR HOME USE AND RELIEF FROM IMPORT DUTIES

Importation
under home use
procedure

118. All imported goods to be cleared under the home use procedure shall entail the following—

- (a) collection of import duties, taxes or levies chargeable on the goods;
- (b) application of the policy measures relating to the goods;
- (c) presentation of any licences, permits, certificates relating to the importation or exportation of the goods;
- (d) completion of all formalities for the importation of the goods and their assignment to home use procedure.

Customs
supervision of end-use
goods

119.(1) Where goods are cleared for home use at a reduced or zero rate of duty or tax, the goods shall remain under Customs supervision or control.

(2) Customs supervision or control shall end where—

- (a) the conditions laid down for granting a reduced or zero rate of duty or tax cease to apply;

- (b) the goods are exported or destroyed; or
- (c) duties, taxes or levies have been paid for a purpose other than for home use.

120.(1) Seychelles goods which are exported from Seychelles, and are returned to Seychelles within a period of three years and declared for release for home use shall, at the request of the declarant be granted relief from import duties, taxes or levies.

Condition for granting of relief on goods returned after export

(2) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may extend the three year period referred to in subsection (1) in order to take account of special circumstances.

(3) Where prior to goods being exported from Seychelles the goods had been released or cleared for home use and duty, tax-free, levy or a reduced rate is applied, any relief from duty, tax or levy under subsection (1) shall be granted only if the goods are to be released or cleared for home use and for the same end-use.

(4) Where the end-use for which the goods are to be released or cleared is no longer the same, the amount of import duties, taxes or levies shall be reduced by any amount collected on the goods when they were first released for home use.

(5) Should the latter amount exceed that levied on the release or clearance for home use of the returned goods, no repayment shall be granted.

121. The relief from import duties, taxes or levies shall not be granted for goods exported from Seychelles under the outward processing procedure unless those goods remain in the same condition in which they were exported.

Condition for not granting relief from import duties,
taxes or levies

122. The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may waive the requirement for the relief from import duties, taxes or levies provided for in section 124 if goods are re-imported in the same condition in which they were exported.

Waiver of relief

- (b) a representative.

(2) The total or partial relief from import duty, tax or levy shall not be granted where a condition relating to the outward processing procedure is not fulfilled unless it is established that the failures have no significant effect on the correct operation of the said procedure.

184.(1) The total or partial relief from import duties, taxes or levies provided in section 179 shall be effected by deducting from the amount of the import duties, taxes or levies applicable to the compensating products cleared for home use the amount of the import duties, taxes or levies that would be applicable on the same date to the temporary export goods if they were imported into Seychelles from the country in which they underwent the last processing operation.

Duties, taxes
or levies
on outward processing
goods

(2) The amount to be deducted pursuant to subsection (1) shall be calculated on the basis of the quantity and nature of the goods in question on the date of acceptance of the declaration placing them under the outward processing procedure and on the basis of the other items of charge applicable to them on the date of acceptance of the declaration relating to the clearance for home use of the compensating products.

(3) The value of the temporary export goods shall be taken into account of the goods in determining the Customs value of the compensating products in accordance with of section 41 or, if the value cannot be determined in that way, the difference between the Customs value for the compensating products and the processing costs determined by reasonable means:

Provided that —

- (a) certain charges determined in accordance with the Customs procedure shall not be taken into account in calculating the amount to be deducted;

- (b) the temporary export goods cleared for home use at a reduced rate by virtue of their end use, as long as the conditions for granting the reduced rate continue to apply and the amount to be deducted shall be the amount of import duties, taxes or levies actually levied when the goods were cleared for home use prior to being placed under the outward processing procedure.

(4) The rate for temporary export goods qualify for home use for reduced or zero rate of duty by virtue of their end use and shall take into account where goods have undergone operations consistent with such end-use in the country where the processing operation or last such operation took place.

(5) Where compensating products qualify for a preferential tariff measure within the meaning of section 40 and the measure exists for goods falling within the same tariff classification as the temporary export goods, the rate of import duties, taxes or levies to be taken into account in establishing the amount to be deducted pursuant to subsection (1) shall be that which would apply if the temporary export goods fulfilled the conditions under which that preferential measure may be applied.

Total relief on duties, taxes or levies on repaired goods

185.(1) Where the purpose of the operation is the repair of the temporary export goods and the Assistant Commissioner of Customs is satisfied that goods have been repaired free of charge due to contractual or statutory obligation arising from a guarantee or due to a manufacturing defect, the temporary export goods shall be eligible for total relief from import duties, taxes or levies.

(2) Subsection (1) shall not apply where the manufacturing defect has been taken into account at the time when the goods were first cleared for home use.

186. Where any repair on temporary export goods are carried out, a partial relief from import duties, taxes or levies shall be granted on the goods returned pursuant to section 179 based on the taxation element and customs value on the repair cost of the compensating products on the date of acceptance of declaration for clearance for home use.

Partial relief on duties and taxes on repaired goods

187.(1) A replacement product, may, in accordance with subsections (2) to (6), replace a compensating product, under the standard exchange system.

Standard
exchange system

(2) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may authorise the standard exchange system to be used where the processing operation involves the repair of Seychelles goods.

(3) Replacement products shall fall under the same tariff sub headings and have the same commercial quality and technical characteristics as the temporary export goods had the goods undergone any repair.

(4) Where the temporary export goods have been used prior to export, the replacement products shall also be used products.

(5) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may, waive the fore-going requirement if the replacement product are supplied free of charge, due to a contractual or statutory obligation arising from a guarantee due to manufacturing defect.

(6) Standard exchange shall be authorised only where conditions laid down in subsections (3) and (4) are fulfilled.

(7) The provisions which would be applicable to the compensating products shall apply to the replacement products.

188.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may, on conditions prescribed by regulations, authorise replacement products to be imported before the defective goods are exported.

Prior importation of replacement products

(2) A guarantee shall be provided for importation of a replacement product covering the amount of the import duties, taxes or levies payable should the defective goods not be exported in accordance with subsection (3).

(3) The defective goods shall be exported within a period of two months from the date of acceptance by Customs of the declaration for the clearance for home use of the replacement products.

(4) Where the defective goods cannot be exported within the period referred to in subsection (3), the Assistant Commissioner of Customs may, at the request of the person concerned, extend that period.

Duty on
importation

189. Where, provisions of section 184 applies prior to importation, the amount to be deducted shall be determined on the basis of the cost incurred to bring the temporary export goods for outward processing on the date of acceptance of the declaration.

PART XI - EXPORT PROCEDURE AND CLEARANCE OF AIRCRAFTS AND VESSELS

I. Prohibited or restricted exports

Prohibited or restricted
exports

190.(1) A person shall not export from Seychelles goods the exportation of which is prohibited or restricted as prescribed by regulation under subsection (2).

(2) Where a Customs declaration is drawn up on information which leads to all or part of the duties, taxes or levies legally owed not being collected, the persons who provided the information and who knew, or who ought reasonably to have known, that such information was false shall also be a debtor.

Customs debt
arising out of non-fulfilment of an obligation or non compliance with conditions relating to imported goods

210.(1) A custom debt on importation shall be incurred through —

- (a) non fulfilment of one of the obligations arising in respect of goods liable to import duties, taxes or levies for the temporary storage or use of the customs procedure under which they are placed; or

- (b) non-compliance with a condition governing the placing of the goods under the procedure or the granting of reduced zero rate of import duties, taxes or levies by virtue of the end- use of the goods.

(2) The customs debt shall be incurred when non fulfilment of the customs debt ceases to be met or when the goods were placed under a customs procedure where the condition or the granting of a reduced or zero rate of import duties, taxes or levies of the end use of the goods are not fulfilled.

(3) The debtor shall be required to fulfil the obligations arising in respect of goods liable to import duties, taxes or levies from the temporary storage or from the customs procedure under which they have been placed or to comply with conditions governing the goods under the procedure or use.

211.(1) A customs debt shall not be incurred where —

Dutiable
derogations

- (a) a person proves that the non fulfilment of the obligations under sections 64 and 75
- (b) keeping the goods in temporary storage; or
- (c) the use of the Customs procedure under which the goods have been placed,

give rise to the total destruction or irretrievable loss of the goods as a result of the inherent nature of the goods, unforeseeable circumstances, force majeure, or as a consequence of authorisation by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), goods shall be irretrievably lost when they are rendered unusable by any person.

(3) A Customs debt shall not be incurred in respect of goods on importation released for home use at a reduced or zero rate of import duties, taxes or levies by virtue of their end-use where such goods are exported or re-exported with the permission of the Assistant Commissioner of Customs.

Customs
debt on scrap and waste

212. A custom debt shall not be incurred in respect of goods released for home use at a reduced or zero rate of import duties or taxes on account of their end-use, and any scrap or waste resulting from such destruction shall be liable to any duties or taxes chargeable on the scrap or waste.

Joint and several liability for a debt

213. Where several persons are liable for payment of Customs debt, they shall be jointly and severally liable for such debt.

Time and place when Customs debt is incurred

214.(1) (a) Except as, otherwise expressly provided in this Act, the amount of import and export duties and taxes chargeable on goods, shall be determined on the basis of rules of assessment appropriate to the goods at the time the customs debt is incurred.

(b) Where it is not possible to determine when the Customs debt is incurred, the time to be taken into account in determining the rules of assessment appropriate to the goods concerned shall be the time when the Assistant Commissioner of Customs concludes that a Customs debt is incurred.

(c) Where information shows that the Customs debt was incurred prior to the time concluded under subsection (2), the amount of the import or export duties, taxes or levies payable shall be determined on the basis on the rules of assessment of the goods at the time when customs debt arise from the information available.

(d) Compensatory interest shall be applied, by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs, at a rate to be determined under the Revenue Administration Act.

(2) A customs debt shall be incurred in a place —

- (a) where the goods were placed under a procedure or where it was introduced into Seychelles under that procedure;
- (b) where goods were in another place at an earlier date which may be established as the location of the goods at the earlier time when the customs debt was established;
- (c) where it is not possible to establish the place, it shall be at the place where customs conclude that an event arising to the debt occurred.

215.(1) Where a Customs debt is incurred pursuant to section 209 in respect of goods released for home use at a reduced rate of duties, taxes or levies on account of their end-use the amount of duty, tax or levy paid on goods released for home use shall be deducted from the amount of the Customs debt.

Deduction of duties, taxes or levies already paid

(2) Subsection (1) shall apply where a secondary Customs debt is incurred in respect of scrap and waste resulting from the destruction of such goods.

(3) Where a Customs debt is incurred, pursuant to section 209 in respect of goods placed under temporary admission with partial relief from import duties, taxes or levies the amount paid under partial relief shall be deducted pro rata from the amount of the Customs debt.

II. Incurrence of a Customs Debt on Exportation or Importation

216.(1) A Customs debt on exportation shall be incurred through non compliance—

- (a) of the obligations laid in customs law, exit movement or disposal of the goods ; or

Customs debt
incurred through non-compliance
and failure to fulfil obligations

- (b) of the conditions under which the goods were allowed to leave Seychelles with total or partial relief from export duties, taxes or levies.

(2) The time at which a customs debt on exportation is incurred shall be when —

- (a) the goods leave Seychelles without customs declaration;
- (b) the goods reach the destination other than that for which they were allowed to leave Seychelles with total or partial relief from export duties, taxes or levies;
- (c) the Assistant Commissioner of Customs is unable to determine the date of expiry of the time limit for the production of evidence that the that relief has been fulfilled.

(3) Where goods liable for export duties, taxes or levies leave Seychelles without customs declaration a debtor shall be —

- (a) a person who was required to lodge a customs declaration;
- (b) a person who caused the act which led to the non-fulfilment of the obligation of lodging a Customs declaration;
- (c) the declarant or his or her representative;
- (d) where a Customs declaration is drawn up on the basis of information which leads to all or part of the export duties, taxes or levies not being collected, the person who provided the information knew, or who should reasonably have known, that such information was false.

217. The Customs debt on importation or exportation shall be incurred if it is related to goods which are subject to prohibition or restrictions on importation and exportation of any kind.

Customs debt
in relation to prohibited or
goods

218. Where costs for storage or usual manner of handling have been incurred in Seychelles for goods placed under a Customs procedure the cost or the increase in value shall not be taken into account for the calculation of the amount of import duties, taxes or levies except the customs value, nature and origin of any imported goods used in the operations.

Storage charges and costs for usual forms of handling

219.(1) Where the tariff classification of goods placed under a Customs procedure changes as a result of usual forms of handling in Seychelles, the original tariff classification for the goods placed under the procedure shall apply at the request from the declarant.

Tariff
heading

(2) In the absence of a request from the declarant, the tariff classification applicable to the goods at the time of their release from the procedure shall apply.

220.(1) Where a Customs debt is incurred for processed products resulting from the inward processing procedure and the goods are diverted to home use, the amount of such debt shall, at the request of the declarant, be determined on the basis of the tariff classification, customs value, nature and origin of the goods when placed under the processing procedure and at the time of acceptance of the declaration relating to goods.

Duties, taxes
or levies criteria for inward processing
goods

(2) In the absence of a request from the declarant, the amount of the Customs debt shall be determined on the basis of the taxation elements appropriate to the processed products on their release from the inward processing procedure for home use.

(3) The value of the processed product shall be determined, where applicable, in the following manner —

- (a) the Customs value of identical or similar goods produced in any country and imported into Seychelles at or about the same time as the goods being valued; or
- (b) the value based on the unit price at which the identical or similar goods are sold in Seychelles in the greatest aggregate quantity to persons not related to the sellers; or
- (c) the Customs value of the import goods plus the processing costs.

Duties, taxes
or levies criteria for outward processing
goods

221.(1) Where a Customs debt is incurred for processed products resulting from the outward processing procedure other than in circumstances referred for in section 179, and where only ad valorem duties are involved, the amount of import duties, taxes or levies shall be calculated on the basis of the cost of the processing operation undertaken outside Seychelles.

(2) The rate of duties, taxes or levies shall apply to the processed products at the time of acceptance of the declaration for release for home use and the valuation applicable under this Act.

III. Guarantee for Debt

for a Customs
debt

222.(1) Where a guarantee is required to secure payment of all duties, taxes or levies the Assistant Commissioner of Customs may require the debtor or the person liable to provide a guarantee.

(2) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall require only one guarantee to be provided in respect of the goods or declaration for the Customs debt in respect of all goods covered by or relevant in that declaration.

(3) At the request of the debtor or the person liable to provide a guarantee the Assistant Commissioner of Customs may, in accordance with section 227 authorise a comprehensive guarantee to cover the Customs debt.

223.(1) Where a guarantee is required under this Act, the Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall fix the amount of the guarantee at a level equal to the amount of the Customs debt.

Compulsory
guarantee

(2) Where it is not possible to establish the amount of the Customs debt, the amount of the guarantee shall be fixed at the maximum amount as estimated by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs of the Customs debt which has been or may be incurred.

224. Where a comprehensive guarantee is provided for Customs debts the amount of the guarantee shall be set at a level enabling the maximum Customs debts to be covered at all times.

Comprehensive
guarantee

225.(1) A guarantee may be —

Type of
guarantee

- (a) a cash deposit or any other means of payment accepted by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs as being equivalent to a cash deposit;
- (b) an undertaking given by a guarantor;
- (c) another form of guarantee which provides equivalent assurance that the Customs debt will be paid.

(2) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may refuse to accept the type of guarantee where it is incompatible with the proper functions of a Customs procedure.

(3) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may require that the guarantee be maintained for a specific period.

226.(1) The guarantor shall be approved by the Assistant

Guarantor

Commissioner of Customs, unless —

- (a) the guarantor is a bank or a financial institution in Seychelles.
- (b) a person established in Seychelles and have not commit a serious offence against customs or revenue laws.

(2) The guarantor shall undertake in writing to pay the secured amount of a Customs debt and secured amount of import or export duties, taxes or levies payable following post-release verification.

(3) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may refuse to approve the guarantor or type of guarantee proposed where either does not appear certain to ensure payment of the customs debt within the prescribed period.

Additional or

227.(1) Comprehensive guarantees may be replaced with a specific guarantee where the Assistant Commissioner of Customs is satisfied that the goods are subject to fraud and that a comprehensive guarantee would not adequately secure the revenue risk involved in the procedure of operation.

(2) Where the Assistant Commissioner of Customs establishes that the guarantee provided does not ensure or is no longer sufficient to ensure payment of the Customs debt within the prescribed period the Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall require an additional guarantee or a new guarantee.

the

228.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall release the guarantee when the Customs debt has been settled.

(2) Where the Customs debt has been settled in part or may arise in respect of part of the amount which has been secured the settled part of the guarantee shall be released at the request of the person concerned, unless the amount involved does not justify the release.

IV. Recovery and Payment of Duties, taxes or levies

229.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall notify the debtor of the amount of duties, taxes or levies payable.

Notification
of the Customs debt
to the debtor

(2) The debtor shall be notified where the amount of duties, taxes or levies payable declared in the bill of entry if different from the amount of duty tax or levy payable as determined by customs.

230.(1) Notification of a decision determining the amount of duty tax or levy may not be issued to the debtor after the expiry of a period of 4 years from the date on which the customs debt had incurred.

Time limit
for notification of customs
debt

(2) Where the Customs debt is the result of an act which at the time it was committed was liable to give rise to criminal proceedings the 4 year period laid down in subsection (1) shall not apply.

(3) Where an appeal is lodged with the Revenue Tribunal the periods laid down in subsection (1) shall be suspended from the date on which the appeal is lodged.

(4) Where liability for a Customs debt is reinstated the liability shall be considered as suspended from the date on which the repayment or remission application was submitted in accordance with section 237 (3) until a decision on the repayment or remission is taken.

231.(1) Customs shall enter in the accounts the duties, taxes or levies payable.

Entry of accounts

(2) Customs shall not enter in the accounts the duties, taxes or levies which cannot be notified to the debtor.

(3) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs shall determine the procedure for entry of the amount of duties, taxes or levies and deferment of payment.

Time limit
for payment

232.(1) The amount of duties, taxes or levies notified shall be paid by the debtor within 3 working days following the receipt of the notification.

(2) An extension of that period shall be granted automatically where it is established that the person concerned received the notification too late to enable the person to make payment within the prescribed period.

(3) An extension of that period may be granted by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs at the request of the debtor where the amount of duty or tax payable has been determined in the course of post-release verification referred to in section 117 and such extensions shall not exceed the time for the debtor to discharge the obligation.

facilities

233. Payment shall be made in cash or by any other means with similar discharging effect including an adjustment of credit balance as agreed by the Assistant Commissioner of Customs.

Deferred
payment

234.(1) The Assistant Commissioner of Customs may grant the debtor payment facilities other than deferred payment on condition that an approved guarantee is provided.

(2) Where such facilities are granted pursuant to subsection (1), the credit interest may be charged on the amount of duties, taxes or levies which shall be prescribed by regulation.

(3) A customs debt is not affected where —

- (a) the goods have ceased to be subject to Customs control or supervision;
- (b) a guarantee or other security has been given for the payment of the duties, taxes or levies;

or
