Sierra Leone

The Anti-Human Trafficking and Migrant Smuggling Act, 2022 Short title.

Being an Act to provide for the continuing in existence of the National Task Force on Human Trafficking, to provide for the continuing in existence of a Secretariat to assist the Task Force, to provide for the prosecution of the offence of human trafficking, to provide for the prosecution of the offence of migrant smuggling, to provide for economic alternatives to human trafficking or smuggling of persons and to provide for other related matters.

•] Date of commencement.

ENACTED by the President and Members of Parliament in this present Parliament assembled.

PART I—PRELIMINARY

Interpretation.

1. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

“abuse of a position of vulnerability” means abuse that the person believes he has no reasonable alternative but to submit to the labour or service demanded of the person, and includes taking advantage of the vulnerabilities resulting from the person having entered a country illegally or without proper documentation, pregnancy, physical or mental disease or disability of the person, addiction to the use of substance, or reduced capacity to form judgements by virtue of being a child;

“child” means a person under the age of 18 years;

“coercion” means force or some form of non-violent or psychological force including—

- (a) threats of serious harm to or physical restraint against a person;
- (b) a scheme, plan, or pattern intended to cause a person to believe that failure to perform an act would result in serious harm, physical restraint or legal action against a person; or
- (c) the abuse or threatened abuse against a person;

“debt bondage” means the status or condition of a debtor arising from a pledge by the debtor of his personal services or those of a person under his control as a security for debt, if the value of those services as reasonably assessed is not applied towards the liquidation of the debt or the length and nature of those services are not respectively limited and defined;

‘electronic evidence’ means photographs, video recording, audio recordings, evidence derived from data contained in or produced by any device the functioning of which depends on a software program or from data stored on or communicated over a computer system or network;

“exploitation” includes—

- (a) keeping a person in a state of slavery;
- (b) subjecting a person to practices similar to slavery;
- (c) compelling or causing a person to provide forced labour or services;
- (d) keeping a person in a state of servitude, including sexual servitude;
- (e) exploitation of the prostitution of another;
- (f) engaging in other form of commercial sexual exploitation, such as pimping, pandering, procuring, profiting from prostitution, maintaining a brothel, child pornography and online child exploitation;

- (g) slavery and servitude;
- (h) illicit removal of human organs;
- (i) exploitation during armed conflicts;

“forced labour” means labour or services obtained or maintained through force, threat of force or other means of coercion or physical restraint;

“fraudulent travel or identity document” includes a counterfeit copy, illicitly modified genuine travel or identity document made by unauthorised persons, to be used deceptively as if it were a legitimate travel or a travel or identity document obtained from an authorised issuer by providing false information;

“illicit removal of organs” means the illegal removal of a human organ and not the legitimate medical procedures for which proper consent has been obtained;

“Minister” means the Minister responsible for Social Welfare;

“practices similar to slavery” includes debt bondage, serfdom, forced or servile marriages and delivery of children for exploitation;

“servitude” means a condition of dependency in which the labour or services of a person are provided or obtained by threats of serious harm to that person or other person or through a scheme, plan or pattern intended to cause the person to believe that, if the person do not perform such labour or services, that person or another person would suffer serious harm;

“slavery” means the status or condition of a person over whom any or all the powers attaching to the right of ownership are exercised;

“smuggling” means the offence of migrant smuggling under section 20;

“Task Force” means the National Task Force on Human Trafficking referred to in section 2;

“trafficking” means the offence of trafficking of persons stated in section 12;

“Trust Fund” means the Victims of Human Trafficking Trust Fund established under section 11;

“vessel” means a craft designed for transportation on water, such as a ship or boat;

“victim” means a person who has suffered harm, including physical or mental injury, emotional suffering, economic loss or substantial impairment of their fundamental human rights, through acts that are in violation of this Act.

PART VII—JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

24. A court in Sierra Leone shall have jurisdiction to try an offence under this Act where an act which constitutes the offence has been carried out— Jurisdiction.

- (a) wholly or partly in Sierra Leone;
- (b) by a citizen of Sierra Leone anywhere;
- (c) by a person resident in Sierra Leone;
- (d) by a person on board a vessel or aircraft registered in Sierra Leone.

Indictment preferred without previous committal.

25. An indictment relating to an offence under this Act shall be preferred without a previous committal for trial and it shall in all respects be deemed to have been preferred pursuant to subsection (1) of section 136 of the Criminal Procedure Act, 1965 and shall be proceeded with accordingly.

Offences by body of persons.

26. (1) Where an offence under this Act is committed by a body of persons, if the body of persons is –

- (a) a body corporate, every director or officer of that body shall be deemed to have committed that offence;
- (b) a firm, every partner of that firm shall be deemed to have committed that offence:

(2) A person shall not be deemed to have committed an offence under section (1) if he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of the offence.

Admissibility of electronic evidence.

27. (1) In a proceeding under this Act, electronic evidence is admissible if –

- (a) all parties to the proceedings agree to it being admitted, or
- (b) the court is satisfied that it is in the interests of justice for it to be admissible.

(2) In deciding whether electronic evidence should be admitted under paragraph (b) of subsection (1), the court shall have regard to factors in the interest of justice including –

- (a) how much probative value the evidence has (assuming it to be true) in relation to a matter in issue in the proceedings, or how valuable it is for the understanding of other evidence in the case;
- (b) what other evidence has been, or can be, given on the matter or evidence mentioned in paragraph (a);
- (c) how important the matter or evidence mentioned in paragraph (a) is in the context of the case as a whole;
- (d) the circumstances in which the evidence was obtained;
- (e) how reliable the evidence appears to be.

28. An attempt or conspiracy to commit or aiding, abetting, Attempt, aiding and abetting, etc. counselling, commanding, or procuring the commission of an offence under this Act shall be punishable as if the offence had been completed.

Extradition Act, 1974 to apply.

29. A request for extradition of an offender under this Act shall be subject to the Extradition Act, 1974 (Act No. 11 of 1974) which shall be applied as if human trafficking or smuggling is an offence for which extradition may be granted.

Property to be forfeited to the State.

30. (1) Property, including but not limited to money, valuables, real property and vehicles, belonging to a person who is convicted of an offence of human trafficking under section 12 or migrant smuggling under section 20 that was used or intended to be used or was obtained in the course of the offence, or benefits gained from the proceeds of the offence, shall be forfeited to the State.

(2) Overseas assets of a person convicted of human trafficking shall be forfeited to Government.

Defendant to pay restitution.

(3) Restitution shall, upon the conviction of the defendant, be paid—

- (a) to the victim promptly and in any event not later than 90 days from the date of conviction;
- (b) with the proceeds from property forfeited under section 30;
- (c) for the return of a victim to his home country or normal place of abode but the absence of the victim from the jurisdiction shall not prejudice the victim's right to receive restitution.

Witness protection.

32. (1) A witness, other than the accused, in a criminal trial under this Act, shall be eligible for witness protection if the court is satisfied that the quality of evidence given by the witness in the proceedings is likely to be diminished by reason of fear or distress on the part of the witness.

(2) In determining whether a witness is eligible for witness protection under subsection (1), the court shall take into account—

- (a) the nature and alleged circumstances of the offence to which the proceedings relate;
- (b) the age of the witness;
- (c) matters which appear to the Court to be relevant including—
 - (i) the social and cultural background of the witness;
 - (ii) the domestic and employment circumstances of the witness; and
 - (iii) religious beliefs or political opinions of the witness;
- (d) behaviour towards the witness on the part of—

- (i) the accused;
- (ii) members of the family or associates of the accused, or
- (iii) any other person who is likely to be an accused or a witness in the proceedings.

(3) In addition to the issues to be taken into account under subsection (2), the court shall consider views expressed by the witness.

(4) The trial judge shall determine the measures necessary for the protection of a witness including—

- (a) conducting proceedings in camera;
- (b) sealing or restricting access to the record of court proceedings;
- (c) permitting evidence of a victim or a witness to be given means out of view of the accused, such as behind a screen, through a video link or other similar communications technology; or

- (b) interfere with an order which has been made requiring a witness or victim to testify;
- (c) engage in other acts of interference including bribery or other forms of corrupt practices, intimidation or coercion.

(2) A person who contravenes subsection (1) commits an offence and is liable, on conviction, to a fine of not less than 50,000,000 Leones or to a term of imprisonment of not less than 3 years or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Divulging information prohibited.

34. (1) A person shall not, where he knows or has reasonable grounds to believe that an investigation into a human trafficking or migrant smuggling offence is likely to be prejudiced or compromised, divulge that fact or other information to another person.

(2) A person who contravenes subsection (1) commits an offence and is liable, on conviction, to a fine of not less than 50,000,000 Leones or to a term of imprisonment of not less than 3 years or to both such fine and imprisonment.

PART VIII-MISCELLANEOUS

35. The Task Force shall, either alone or in conjunction with other persons or organisations, take measures that will enhance economic opportunity for potential victims of human trafficking including—

Economic measures to prevent human trafficking.

- (a) microcredit lending programmes, training in business development, skills training and job counselling;
- (b) programmes to promote women's participation in economic decision making;
- (c) programmes to keep children, especially girls, in elementary and secondary schools, and to educate persons who have been victims of trafficking, and
- (d) the development of educational curricula regarding the dangers of trafficking.

36. (1) A court may make a prevention order against a person accused of human trafficking or migrant smuggling on an ex-parte notice of motion, unless the court orders it to be on notice.

Prevention orders.

(2) The court shall make a prevention order under subsection (1) where it is satisfied that—

- (a) there is a risk that the accused may commit a human trafficking or migrant smuggling offence under this Act, and
- (b) it is necessary for the purpose of protecting persons generally, or particular persons, from the physical or psychological harm.

Regulations.

37. The Minister may, by statutory instrument, make regulations to carry into effect the provisions of this Act.

Repeal and savings.

38. (1) The Anti-Human Trafficking Act, 2005 is hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), any orders, regulations or other instruments made under the repealed Act shall remain in force until such time as the orders, regulations or other instruments are revoked.

Transitional provision.

39. (1) Criminal proceedings instituted under the repealed Act prior to the commencement of this Act, shall be concluded as if this Act had not been passed.

(2) Where an offence under the repealed Act has been committed but criminal proceedings have not been commenced, this Act shall apply.
