(2) Where a partnership is formed for the purpose of carrying on a profession, the number of professionals, which constitutes the partnership shall not exceed fifty.

(3) The relationship between or among members of any company or association which is—

- (a) registered as a company under the Companies Act or any other Act relating to the registration of joint stock companies; or

- (b) formed or incorporated by or in pursuance of any other written law,

3. Rules for determining the existence of partnership.

In determining whether a partnership does or does not exist, regard shall be had to the following rules—

- (a) joint tenancy, tenancy in common, joint property, common property or part ownership does not of itself create a partnership;
- (b) the sharing of gross returns does not of itself create a partnership, whether the persons sharing those returns have or do not have a joint or common right or interest in any property from which, or from the use of which, the returns are derived;
- (c) the receipt by a person of a share of the profits of a business is prima facie evidence that he or she is a partner in the business, but the receipt of such a share, or a payment contingent on or varying with the profits of a business, does not of itself make a person a partner in the business; and in particular—
 - (i) the receipt by a person of a debt or other liquidated amount by installments or otherwise, out of the accruing profits of a business, does not of itself make that person a partner in the business or liable;
 - (ii) a contract for the remuneration of a servant or agent of a person engaged in a business by a share of the profits of the business does not of itself make the servant or agent a partner in the business or liable;
 - (iii) a person, being the widow or child of a deceased partner and receiving by way of annuity, a portion of the profits made in the business in which the deceased person was a partner, is not, by reason only of that receipt, a partner in the business or liable;

- (iv) the advance of money by way of a loan to a person engaged, or about to engage, in any business on a contract with that person that the lender shall receive a rate of interest varying with the profits, or shall receive a share of the profits arising from carrying on the business, does not of itself make the lender a partner with the person carrying on the business or liable as such if the contract is in writing, and signed by or on behalf of all the parties to the contract;
 - (v) a person receiving, by way of annuity or otherwise, a portion of the profits of a business in consideration of his or her sale of the goodwill of the business is not, by reason only of the receipt, a partner in the business or liable;

(2) The act of a partner who does any act for the purpose of carrying on the ordinary course of business of the firm binds the firm and his or her partners, unless the partner so acting does not have authority to act for the firm in the particular matter, and the person with whom the partner is dealing—

- (a) knows that the partner has no authority; or
- (b) does not know or believe him or her to be a partner.

6. Partners bound by act on behalf of firm.

(1) An act or instrument relating to the business of the firm and done or executed in the firm name, or in any other manner showing an intention to bind the firm by any person authorised to bind the firm, whether a partner or not, is binding on the firm and all the partners.

7. Partners using credit of firm for private purposes.

Where a partner pledges the credit of the firm for a purpose apparently not connected with the firm's ordinary course of business, the firm is not bound, unless that partner is in fact specially authorised by the other partners.

8. Effect of notice that firm not bound by acts of partners.

Where it has been agreed between or among the partners that a restriction shall be placed on the power of any one or more of them to bind the firm, an act done in contravention of the agreement is not binding on the firm with respect to persons having notice of that agreement.

9. Liability of partners.

(1) A partner in a firm is liable jointly with the other partners for all debts and obligations of the firm incurred while he or she is a partner.

(2) Where a partner dies, his or her estate is severally liable in due course of administration for the debts and obligations of the firm so far as they remain unsatisfied but subject to the prior payment of his or her separate debts.

(3) The estate of a partner who dies or who becomes bankrupt or of a partner, who, not having been known to the person dealing with the firm to be a partner, retires from the firm, is not liable for partnership debts contracted after the date of the death, bankruptcy or retirement respectively.

A person who is a minor according to the law to which he or she is subject may be admitted to the benefits of partnership, but cannot be made personally liable for any obligation of the firm; but the share of that minor in the property of the firm is liable for any obligation of the firm.

11. Liability of minor partner on attaining majority.

A person who has been admitted to the benefits of partnership while still a minor shall, on attaining the age of majority, be liable for all obligations incurred by the partnership from the date of his or her admission, unless he or she gives public notice within a reasonable time of his or her repudiation of the partnership.

12. Liability of the firm for wrongs of partners.

Where, by any wrongful act or omission of any partner acting in the ordinary course of the business of the firm, or with the authority of his or her co-partners, loss or injury is caused to any person not being a partner in the firm, or any penalty is incurred, the firm is liable for the loss, injury or penalty to the same extent as the partner so acting or omitting to act.

- (b) nothing in this section shall prevent trust money from being followed and recovered from the firm if it is still in possession or control of the firm.

16. Persons liable by holding out.

(1) Any person who by words spoken, written or by conduct represents himself or herself, or who knowingly suffers himself or herself to be represented as a partner in a particular firm is liable as a partner to any one who has, on the faith of any such representation, given credit to the firm, whether the representation has or has not been made or communicated to the person so giving credit by or with the knowledge of the apparent partner making the representation or suffering it to be made.

(2) A firm shall not be liable for the acts of any person who falsely holds out himself or herself as a partner of a firm.

(3) Where, after a partner's death, the partnership business is continued in the firm name, the continued use of that name or of the deceased partner's name as part of the firm's name shall not of itself make his or her executors or administrators of the estate or effects liable for any partnership debts contracted after his or her death.

17. Admissions and representations of partners.

An admission or representation made by any partner concerning the affairs of the partnership in the ordinary course of its business is evidence against the firm.

A continuing guarantee given either to a firm or to a third person in respect of the transactions of a firm is, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, revoked as to future transactions by any change in the constitution of the firm to which the guarantee was given or any change in respect of the transaction for which the guarantee was given.

Unless the contrary intention appears, property bought with money belonging to the firm is taken to have been bought on account of the firm.

24. Conversion into personal estate of land held as partnership property.

37. Dissolution by court for incapacity, etc.

On the application by a partner, the court may decree dissolution of a partnership in any of the following cases—

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the firm is in no case bound by the acts of a partner who has become bankrupt; but this section does not affect the liability of any person who has, after the bankruptcy, represented himself or herself or knowingly suffered himself or herself to be represented as a partner of the bankrupt.

41. Rights of partners as to application of partnership property.

On the dissolution of a partnership, every partner is entitled, as against the other partners in the firm and all persons claiming through them in respect of their interests as partners—

42. Apportionment of premium where partnership prematurely dissolved.

Where one partner has paid a premium to another partner on entering into a partnership for a fixed term, and the partnership is dissolved before the expiration of that term otherwise than by the death of a partner, the court may order the repayment of the premium or of such part of it as it thinks just, having regard to the terms of the partnership contract and to the length of time during which the partnership has continued, unless—

- (a) the dissolution is, in the judgment of the court, wholly or mainly due to the misconduct of the partner who paid the premium; or
- (b) the partnership has been dissolved by an agreement containing no provision for a return of any part of the premium.

43. Rights where partnership dissolved for fraud or misrepresentation.

Where a partnership contract is rescinded on the ground of the fraud or misrepresentation of one of the parties to it, the party entitled to rescind is, without prejudice to any other right, entitled—

- (a) to a share of the profits made since the dissolution as the court may find to be attributable to the use of his or her share of the partnership assets; and

(b) to interest at the prevailing treasury bill rate.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where the partnership contract gives an option to surviving or continuing partners to purchase the interest of a deceased or outgoing partner and that option is duly exercised, the estate of the deceased partner or outgoing partner or his or her estate is not entitled to any other share of the profits.

(3) Where a partner purporting to act in exercise of the option given under subsection (2) does not in all material respects comply with its terms, he or she is liable to account as provided in this section.

45. Retiring or deceased partner's share to be a debt.

Subject to any agreement between the parties, the amount due from continuing or surviving partners to an outgoing partner or the representatives of a deceased partner in respect of the outgoing or deceased partner's share is a debt accruing at the date of the dissolution or death.

46. Rules for distribution of partnership assets on final settlement of accounts.

In settling accounts between or among the partners after dissolution of a partnership, the following rules shall, subject to any agreement, be observed—

- (a) losses, including losses and deficiencies of capital shall be paid, first out of profits, next out of capital, and lastly, if necessary, by the partners individually in the proportion in which they were entitled to share profits;
