2. Appointment of pensions authority

The Minister may, by statutory order, appoint a public officer of the rank of Permanent Secretary to be the pensions authority.

3. Pensions regulations

- (1) Pensions, gratuities and other allowances may be granted by the pensions authority, in accordance with the regulations contained in the First Schedule to this Act, to officers who have been in the service of the Government.
- (2) The Minister may amend the Schedules to this Act and with the approval of Cabinet by statutory instrument, vary the pensions, gratuities or the allowances provided for under the Act or any law made under it.

- (3) Whenever the pensions authority is satisfied that it is equitable that any regulation made under this section should have retrospective effect in order to confer a benefit upon or remove a disability attaching to any person, that regulation may be given retrospective effect for that purpose; except that no such regulation shall have retrospective effect unless it has received the prior approval of Parliament signified by resolution.
- (4) Any pension or gratuity granted under this Act shall be computed in accordance with the provisions in force at the actual date of an officer's retirement or of his or her death in the public service, as the case may be.
- (5) All regulations made under this section shall have the same force and effect as if they were contained in the First Schedule to this Act.

4. Pensionable service for teachers

- (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act in respect of teachers, only service on or after the 1st day of July, 1953, shall be considered as pensionable service, but any period of service in respect of which a teacher would have been eligible for gratuity under the Uganda African Teachers Gratuity Regulations, 1952, or during which a teacher contributed to the Uganda Teachers Provident Fund established under the Uganda Teachers Provident Fund Regulations, 1952, shall be considered as qualifying service.

- (2) Any officer who exercises the option under subsection (1) shall cease to be a member of the pension scheme of the urban authority in which he or she is serving from the date on which he or she exercises that option.
- (3) Any pension or other benefit to which the officer may be entitled under the scheme on the date on which he or she exercises the option, and which on that date has not been paid to him or her, shall not become payable to the officer, but he or she shall become eligible for a gratuity or other allowance under this Act.
- (4) For the avoidance of doubt, it is declared that any pension, gratuity or other allowance granted by the pensions authority to any officer to whom this section applies shall be in addition to, and shall not in any way be affected by, any pension or other benefit to which the officer is entitled under any other pension scheme.

7. Pensions, etc. charged on and payable out of the Consolidated Fund and other funds

- (1) Subject to this section, all pensions, gratuities or other allowances shall be charged on and payable out of the Consolidated Fund without further appropriation than this Act.

 - (iii) the case of an officer in the public service on the 16th February, 1961, who attained the age of forty-five years not later than the 16th February, 1962, on or after attaining that age;
 - (b) in the case of a transfer to other public service, in circumstances in which he or she is permitted by law or regulations of the service in which he or she is last employed to retire on pension or gratuity; provided that if the other public service is superannuated service under the Federated Superannuation System for Universities or under a similar insurance scheme, he or she has retired on one of the grounds mentioned in paragraphs (a), (c), (d) and (e) or, if he or she was transferred to the other public service prior to the 16th February, 1961, on or after attaining the age of forty-five years;

- (c) on the abolition of his or her office;
- (d) on compulsory retirement for the purpose of facilitating improvement in the organisation of the department to which he or she belongs, by which greater efficiency or economy may be effected;
- (e) on medical evidence, to the satisfaction of the pensions authority, that he or she is incapable by reason of any infirmity of mind or body of discharging the duties of his or her office and that the infirmity is likely to be permanent;
- (f) if he or she retires from the public service with the written consent of the President acting on the advice of the Public Service Commission, the Judicial Service Commission or, as the case may be, the Education Service Commission;
- (g) on retirement in circumstances not mentioned in the preceding paragraphs of this section, rendering him or her eligible for a pension under the Governors' Pensions Act, 1957, of the United Kingdom or any Act of the United Kingdom amending or replacing that Act, except that a gratuity may be granted to a female officer, in accordance with this Act, who resigns on or with a view to marriage or is required to retire on account of her marriage, notwithstanding that she is not otherwise eligible under this section for the grant of any pension, gratuity or other allowance.

- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a pension, gratuity or other allowance shall be paid to an officer who retires on the attainment of the age of forty-five years if he or she has served for a continuous period of ten years or more.
- (3) Every officer shall retire from the public service on the attainment of the age of fifty-five; except that an officer who attains the age of fifty may, if he or she wishes, remain in the public service until he or she attains the age of fifty-five unless the appropriate authority, within six months after the officer attains the age of fifty, requires him or her to retire.
- (4) For the avoidance of doubt, it is declared that the period of six months referred to in subsection (3) or any shorter period thereof shall be taken into account as pensionable service.
- (5) Subsections (3) and (4) shall apply to officers who were in the public service at the commencement of the Pensions Act (Amendment) Decree, Decree No. 23 of 1973, on 9th November, 1973, and who were still in the public service at the commencement of the Pensions Act (Amendment) Decree, Decree No. 11 of 1977, on 1st July, 1977.

- (a) in cases where the laws of the territory in which the public service was performed provided for the payment of an unreduced pension, the amount of pension which would have been awarded had no gratuity been granted; and
 - (b) in cases where the laws of the territory in which the public service was performed do not provide for the payment of an unreduced pension, such amount as aforesaid plus one-third of the amount.
- (3) Where the limitation specified by subsection (2) operates, the amount of the pension to be drawn from the public funds of Uganda shall be determined with due regard to the amount of any pensions to be drawn in respect of other public services.

14. Pensions, etc. may be paid to unconfirmed officer

- (1) Where the appointing authority has appointed an officer to act in a pensionable office and the officer has acted for two years or more but retired or transferred to another service without being confirmed in that office, the rate at which his or her pension shall be calculated shall be that which would apply if he or she had been confirmed in that office, unless he or she has been removed from the office to a junior office before his or her retirement or unless the appointing authority directs otherwise in writing.
- (2) Where an officer who is otherwise eligible for a pension has been serving in a pensionable office on a trial appointment but retired or transferred to another service without being confirmed in that office, the rate at which his or her pension shall be calculated shall be that which would apply if he or she had been confirmed in that office.

15. Grant of pension, etc. on dismissal

Where an officer is dismissed from the public service, the pensions authority may, if he or she thinks fit, grant such pension, gratuity or other allowance as he or she thinks just and proper, not exceeding in amount that for which the officer would be eligible if he or she retired from the public service in the circumstances described in section 10\(1\)\(e\).

16. Pensions, etc. not to be assignable

A pension, gratuity or other allowance granted under this Act shall not be assignable or transferable except for the purposes of satisfying—

17. Pensions, etc. not subject to attachment on bankruptcy

Where any person to whom a pension or other allowance has been granted under this Act is adjudicated bankrupt or is declared insolvent by judgment of any competent court, the officer shall continue to receive the pension, allowance or gratuity, but the pension, allowance or gratuity shall not be subject to attachment under the Bankruptcy Act.

18. Pensions, etc. to cease on death

- (1) Every pension or other allowance granted under this Act, shall, unless it has sooner ceased, cease upon the death of the person to whom it is granted.
- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where a person who is in receipt of a pension or other allowance under this Act dies before the expiry of fifteen years after the date of his or her retirement, the pensions authority may continue paying the pension or other allowance—
 - (a) if the deceased pensioner is survived by a spouse, to the spouse, for the unexpired period of the fifteen years referred to in this subsection;

- (3) For the avoidance of doubt, it is declared that a pension granted under this section shall be payable for a period not exceeding in aggregate fifteen years from the date of retirement of the deceased pensioner.

19. Gratuity where officer dies

- (a) where a period of continuous service in a civil capacity otherwise than in a pensionable office, or service in a pensionable office otherwise than on pensionable terms, is immediately followed by service in a pensionable office, and the officer is confirmed in the pensionable office, the pensions authority may approve that—
 - (i) in the case of an officer eligible for payment of a gratuity otherwise than under these Regulations, or for payment of a bonus under the Government Employees Provident Fund Act, in respect of that period or part of that period, the whole of that period or such part of it, as the case may be, shall be taken into account; or, if the officer has received additional increments of salary in recognition of service otherwise than on pensionable terms, such lesser proportion of such period or such part of it as the pensions authority may determine; and

- (ii) in any other case, the whole of that period, or such lesser proportion as the pensions authority may determine, shall be taken into account, subject in either case to the exclusion of any part of that period in respect of which an officer has been paid, and is not permitted to repay, or does not repay on demand, any such gratuity or bonus, or in respect of which any other superannuation contributions have been paid by the Government;
- (b) any break in service which may be disregarded under regulation 19 of these Regulations may likewise be disregarded in determining for the purposes of paragraph (a) whether one period of service immediately follows another period of service;
- (c) where an officer has been transferred from a pensionable office in which he or she has been confirmed to an office other than a pensionable office and subsequently retires either from a pensionable office or from such other office, his or her service in the other office may, with the approval of the pensions authority, be taken into account as though it were service in the pensionable office which he or she held immediately prior to the transfer, and at the pensionable emoluments which were payable to him or her immediately prior to the date of transfer;
- (d) where a period of service in a nonpensionable office is taken into account under this regulation, the officer shall, during that period, be deemed for the purposes of regulations 10, 28 and 29 of these Regulations to be holding a pensionable office, and where that period is taken into account under paragraph (c) of this regulation, to have been confirmed in it.

26. Acting service

Any period during which an officer has performed only acting service in an office may be taken into account as pensionable service (subject if the office is a nonpensionable office, to regulation 25) if the period of the acting service—

- (a) is not taken into account as part of the officer's own pensionable service in other public service; and
- (b) is immediately preceded or followed by service in a substantive capacity in a pensionable office under the same Government or authority, and not otherwise.

27. Service under age or on probation or agreement

Except as otherwise provided in these Regulations, there shall not be taken into account as pensionable service—

- (a) any period of service while the officer was under the age of eighteen years or, where it would be to his or her advantage, twenty years; or
- (b) any period of service while he or she was on probation or agreement, unless without break of service he or she is confirmed in a pensionable office in the public service, and any break of service which may be disregarded under regulation 19 of these Regulations may likewise be disregarded in determining whether the officer is confirmed in a pensionable office without break of service.

Part V – Supplementary

28. Abolition of office and reorganisation

If an officer holding a pensionable office retires from the public service in consequence of the abolition of his or her office or for the purpose of facilitating improvement in the organisation of the department to which he or she belongs, by which greater efficiency or economy may be effected, he or she may—

- (a) if he or she has been in the public service for less than ten years, be granted in lieu of any gratuity under regulation 9 or 16 of these Regulations, a pension under regulation 4, 13, 14 or 15 of these Regulations, as the case may be, as if the words “for ten years or more” were omitted from regulation 4;

- (b) if he or she retires from the service of the Government, be granted an additional pension at the annual rate of one-quarter of the pension for which he or she would be eligible under regulation 4, 13, 14 or 15 of these Regulations, if all his or her service in the group had been wholly in the service of the Government, except that the addition together with the remainder of the officer’s pension shall not exceed the pension for which he or she would have been eligible if he or she had continued until the age of fifty-five years to hold the office held by him or her at the date of his or her retirement having received all increments for which he or she would have been eligible by that date.

29. Officers injured or contracting diseases in the discharge of their duties

- (1) This regulation shall apply to an officer who while in the service of the Government either—
- (a) is permanently injured in the actual discharge of his or her duty by some injury specifically attributable to the nature of his or her duty which is not wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his or her own serious and culpable negligence or misconduct; or
- (b) contracts a disease to which he or she is specifically exposed by the nature of his or her duty, not being a disease wholly or mainly due to, or seriously aggravated by, his or her own serious culpable negligence or misconduct.
- (2) In this regulation, unless the contrary intention appears, references to an officer being injured and to the date on which an injury is sustained shall respectively be construed as including references to his or her contracting a disease mentioned in subregulation (1) of this regulation and to the date on which the disease is contracted.
- (3) Where an officer to whom this regulation applies is holding a pensionable office in which he or she has been confirmed—
- (a) he or she may, if his or her retirement is necessitated or materially accelerated by his or her injury and he or she has been in the public service for less than ten years, be granted, in lieu of any gratuity under regulation 9 or 16 of these Regulations, a pension under regulation 4, 13, 14 or 15 of these Regulations, as the case may be, as if the words “for ten years or more” were omitted from regulation 4;
- (b) he or she may, in addition, be granted on retirement a pension at the annual rate of the proportion of his or her actual pensionable emoluments at the date of his or her injury appropriate to his or her case as shown in the following table—when his or her capacity to contribute to his or her own support is—

slightly impaired	five-sixtieths
impaired	ten-sixtieths
materially impaired	fifteen-sixtieths
totally impaired	twenty-sixtieths

except that the amount of the pension under this paragraph of this subregulation may be reduced to such an extent as the pensions authority shall think reasonable where the injury is not the cause or the sole cause of retirement.

- (4) Where an officer to whom this regulation applies is not holding a pensionable office, or is holding a pensionable office in which he or she has not been confirmed, he or she may be granted on retirement a pension of the same amount as the pension which might be granted to him or her under subregulation (3)(b) of this regulation as if his or her office were a pensionable office and he or she had been confirmed in it. Regulation 30 of these Regulations shall not apply to a pension granted under this subregulation.
- (5) If, for the purpose of assessing the amount of any pension to be granted under subregulation (3)(b) or (4) of this regulation to any officer to whom this regulation applies, the degree of permanent impairment of his or her capacity to contribute to his or her support is in doubt, he or she may be granted a provisional award to have effect until such time as the degree of permanent impairment can be determined. Regulation 30 of these Regulations shall not apply to an award made under this subregulation.
- (6) If an officer travelling by a route approved by the responsible officer to or from or within Uganda at the commencement or termination of his or her service, or of a period of duty, secondment, leave or in pursuance of official instructions, is permanently injured as a result of damage to the vessel, aircraft, train or vehicle in which he or she is travelling, or any act of violence directed against the vessel, aircraft, train or vehicle, the officer shall be deemed for the purpose of this regulation to have been injured in the circumstances described in subregulation (1) of this regulation.
- (7) Where the pensions authority is satisfied that compensation under the law relating to workers compensation is payable to an officer in consequence of any injury for which a pension may be granted under subregulation (3)(b) or (4) of this regulation, the pensions authority may take that compensation into account against the pension in such manner and to such extent as he or she thinks fit and may withhold or reduce the pension accordingly. Regulation 30 of these Regulations shall not apply where the pensions authority acts under this subregulation.
- (8) Neither subregulation (3) nor (4) of this regulation shall apply in the case of an officer who, in consequence of his or her injury is entitled under the Oversea Superannuation Scheme to benefits corresponding to the benefits granted under those subregulations.
- (9) Where the pensions authority is satisfied that damages have been or will be recovered by an officer in respect of an injury for which a pension may be granted under subregulation (3)(b) or (4) of this regulation, the pensions authority may take those damages into account against the pension in such manner and to such extent as he or she may think fit and may withhold or reduce the pension accordingly.
- (10) For the purposes of subregulation (9) an officer shall be deemed to recover damages whether they are paid in pursuance of a judgment or order of the court or by way of settlement or compromise of his or her claim and whether or not proceedings are instituted to enforce that claim.

30. Gratuity and reduced pension

- (1) Any officer to whom a pension is granted under the Act may, at his or her option exercisable not later than the day immediately preceding the date of his or her retirement from the public service, or at such later date as the pensions authority may in any special case approve, be paid in lieu of such pension a pension at the rate of two-thirds or any greater fraction of such pension together with a gratuity equal to fifteen times the amount of the reduction so made in the pension.
- (2) In the application of this regulation to cases where the limitation prescribed by section 13(2) of the Act operates, the words "such pension" shall mean the amount of pension which the officer would have drawn from the public funds of Uganda if he or she had not exercised his or her option under this regulation.
- (3) Where an officer has exercised the option mentioned in subregulation (1) of this regulation, he or she may, not later than the day immediately preceding the date of his or her retirement from the public service or such later date as the pensions authority may in any special case approve, amend or revoke the option.

31. Gratuities for police and prisons officers

- (1) A police officer below the rank of assistant inspector or a prison officer below the rank of principal officer may, if he or she has served as a police officer or a prison officer for twelve years or more, be granted on his or her discharge or retirement from the Uganda Police Force or the Uganda Prisons Service, as the case may be, a gratuity of an amount not exceeding 25 percent of his or her total emoluments; except that no gratuity shall be paid in respect of any period of service—
 - (a) as a pensionable officer confirmed in his or her appointment; or
 - (b) which is taken into account as pensionable service under regulation 25 of these Regulations.
- (2) Where a police officer or prison officer to whom this regulation applies has previous service in the police or prisons service of any of the East African territories, or under a regular engagement in the armed forces, that previous service may, in calculating a gratuity payable under this regulation, be taken into account as if it were police or prisons service under the Government; except that—
 - (a) no such previous service shall be so taken into account unless the officer enlisted in the Uganda Police Force or Uganda Prisons Service within six months, or such greater period, not exceeding two years, as the pensions authority may allow, of the end of such previous service; and
 - (b) no period of such previous service in respect of which the officer has received a gratuity or other retirement benefit shall be so taken into account.
- (3) Notwithstanding subregulation (1) of this regulation, a gratuity may be paid if an officer is discharged in any of the circumstances described in section 10(1)(d), (e) or (f) of the Act or on the grounds of his or her inability to discharge his or her duties efficiently, or is required to retire under section 12 of the Act; but the pensions authority may direct that a gratuity payable to an officer who has been discharged on the grounds of his or her inability to discharge his or her duties efficiently shall be reduced by such amount as the pensions authority thinks just and proper, or altogether withheld.
- (4) Where a police officer below the rank of assistant inspector, or a prison officer below the rank of principal officer, dies while in the service of the Government, his or her dependents may be awarded a gratuity equal to the gratuity which might have been granted to the officer had he or she been discharged in the circumstances described in section 10(1)(e) of the Act at the date of his or her death.

32. Identity

A person to whom a pension, gratuity or other allowance has been granted under the Act shall, before any such pension, gratuity or allowance is paid to him or her, satisfy the paying authority as to his or her identity in such manner as the pensions authority may from time to time direct.

- (a) was transferred to the service of the Government other than from East African service before the 9th August, 1948, and who has elected for the new terms of service;
- (b) is transferred to the service of the Government other than from East African service on or after the 9th August, 1948.

4. Officers transferred on or after 9th August, 1948, or who are transferred prior to that date and who elect for new terms

An officer to whom this Part of this Schedule applies shall be subject to the provisions of the Act and of the Regulations, except that in the application of those provisions to any such officer—

- (a) if he or she was appointed to the public service prior to the 1st January, 1930, and his or her public service has been wholly under one or more of the scheduled Governments, and immediately prior to his or her appointment to the service of the Government he or she was eligible to have his or her pension calculated in accordance with a provision corresponding to that set out in this subparagraph, regulation 13 of the Regulations shall have effect as if a third paragraph were added at the end of subregulation (3) as follows—

“(c) where it would be to the advantage of the officer, his or her pension in respect of his or her service under the Government may be calculated as if any scheduled Government in which he or she has served were not a scheduled Government.”;

- (b) if under the provisions of any of the enactments specified in paragraph 1 of the Third Schedule to the Act he or she was eligible on retirement, in circumstances in which he or she might be granted a pension or gratuity, to have such pension or gratuity in respect of an earlier period of service under the Government (not being a period of service immediately preceding the 1st January, 1946) calculated at the annual rate of one four-hundred-and-eightieth of his or her pensionable emoluments for each complete month of pensionable service, regulation 13 of the Regulations shall have effect as if there were inserted at the end of subregulation (2) the following paragraph—

“(e) in the application of regulation 4 of these Regulations his or her pension shall be computed separately—

(i) in respect of pensionable service prior to the date on which he or she ceased to be eligible to have his or her pension or gratuity calculated at the annual rate of one four-hundred-and-eightieth of his or her pensionable emoluments for each complete month of pensionable service at the aforementioned rate; and

(ii) in respect of pensionable service on and after that date at the annual rate of one six-hundredth of his or her pensionable emoluments for each complete month of pensionable service, and in either computation the other period of service shall be treated for the purposes of this Part of these Regulations as though it had been service under a scheduled Government.”;

- (c) if under the provisions of the enactments specified in paragraph 1 of the Third Schedule to the Act the pensionable emoluments of the officer included house allowance calculated at 15 percent of his or her salary without any maximum and the officer, not having been transferred to or from the service of the Government since the 31st December, 1945, retires from an office the initial or fixed salary of which between the 1st January, 1946, and the 31st December, 1953, was 1,335 pounds per year or more, or on and after the 1st January, 1954, is 1,740 pounds per year or more, or, as from the 1st April, 1960, is 1,839 pounds per year or more, then, for the purpose of ascertaining his or her pensionable emoluments for any calculations made in accordance with subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, in respect of the period prior to the 1st January, 1946, his or her salary during any period in which he or she was serving in such an office shall be deemed to be the amount resulting from the reduction by 10 percent, subject to a maximum reduction of 150 pounds, of his or her actual salary and the addition to that figure of 15 percent of that reduced figure;
- (d) if the officer prior to the 9th August, 1948, was under the provisions of the enactments specified in paragraph 1 of the Third Schedule to the Act eligible, on retirement in circumstances in which he or she might be granted a pension or gratuity, to have such a pension or gratuity calculated in respect of his or her public service immediately prior to the 1st January, 1946 (and for the purpose of this paragraph the provisions of regulation 1 of the Third Schedule of the European Officers' Pensions Ordinance as amended by the European Officers' Pensions (Amendment) (No. 3) Regulations, 1946, shall have effect as if for the words “service subsequent to that date and not otherwise” there were substituted the words “service subsequent to the 1st January, 1946, and not otherwise”), at the annual rate of one four-hundred-and-eightieth of his or her pensionable emoluments for each complete month of pensionable service, regulation 13 of the Regulations shall have effect as if there were inserted at the end of subregulation (2) the following paragraph—

“(e) in the application of regulation 4 of these Regulations—

(i) his or her pension shall be calculated separately in respect of pensionable service prior to the 1st January, 1946, and in respect of pensionable service on or after that date; and where as a result of the separate calculation he or she would otherwise suffer a loss of one month’s pensionable service, then one month’s pensionable service shall be added to the period with the greatest number of residual days or, if the residual days are equal, to the period prior to the 1st January, 1946; and

(ii) in respect of the period prior to the 1st January, 1946, his or her pension shall be calculated at the annual rate of one four-hundred-and-eightieth of his or her pensionable emoluments for each complete month of pensionable service and in respect of the period on or after the 1st January, 1946, his or her pension shall be calculated in accordance with regulation 4 of these Regulations;

(iii) the sum arrived at by adding together the amount of the separate calculations shall be the pension for which he or she would have been so eligible.”;

- (e) if the officer under the provisions of the enactments specified in paragraphs 9 to 12 of the Third Schedule to the Act was entitled to elect, and does elect, to have his or her pension calculated in accordance with the provisions of the enactments specified in paragraph 13 of the Third Schedule to the Act, then if the pensionable emoluments of the officer included house allowance calculated at 15 percent of his or her salary without any maximum and the officer not having been transferred from the service of the Government retires from an office the initial or fixed salary of which between the 1st January, 1946, and the 31st December, 1953, was 801 pounds per year or more, or on and after the 1st January, 1954, is 1,740 pounds per year or more, or, as from the 1st April 1960, is 1,839 pounds per year or more then, for the purpose of ascertaining his or her pensionable emolument for any calculation made in accordance with this subparagraph in respect of the period prior to the 1st January, 1946, his or her salary during the period in which he or she was serving in such office shall be deemed to be the amount resulting from the reduction by 10 percent, subject to a maximum reduction of 72 pounds, of his or her actual salary and the addition to that reduced figure of 15 percent of that reduced figure.

Part III – Officers appointed to the public service before the 9th August, 1948
